Gift & Home temporaries reorganized

The Atlanta Market gift and home temporary exhibits – the largest in the nation – reorganize as a refreshed showcase this summer, offering some 1,400 brands across seven curated categories for comprehensive sourcing. The market runs Wednesday, July 17, through Sunday, July 21, at AmericasMart Atlanta.

“The temporaries at Atlanta Market are the place to be for the dynamic shopper,” said Dorothy Belshaw, ANDMORE president. “With a mix of traditional items and never-before-seen brands, buyers are given the unique opportunity to discover and branch out, no matter the product category.”

The reimagined temporaries will now feature brands through seven umbrella categories: Cash & Carry, Fashion Accessories, Gift, High Design, Home, Kitchen + Table and Makers Hub on eight floors in Buildings 2 and 3 of AmericasMart Atlanta. This positioning allows buyers to shop cross-category selections in more concentrated, journey-driven neighborhoods.

Among a new class of innovative and emerging exhibitors, notable names include A Second Round Glass LLC (upcycled glassware), and the little dog laughed (soft and plush toys and newborn gifts), Authentic Models (handcrafted furniture and ornaments), Charlie Bears North America Inc. (plush bears), Color Caravan (color-infused wallpaper, textiles and home décor), declan (children's clothing), Doing Goods (home accessories), Elia Parfum (fragrance), Fabuplates (decorative plates), Hon Lam Silk Flowers Mfy Ltd (artificial flowers and greenery), Juno Colors (hand-drawn tea towels) and Skyline Chess (chess sets).

Existing product categories are now reorganized into the following groupings: Cash & Carry combines Cash & Carry and Luxe; Fashion Accessories combines Accessories Council, Boutique, Gentlemen's Boutique, Jewelry and Fashion Accessories & Apparel; Gift combines Body + Soul, Spa Products, Children's World, Modern Child, General Gift, On Trend Gifts, Seasonal Gifts, Outdoor Living, Noted Village and Emerging Brands; High Design combines High Design, Modern Maker and Luxe; Home combines Home Accents, Home Furnishings, Fine Linens, Home Textiles, Luxe, Seasonal Gifts and Outdoor Living; Kitchen + Table combines Georgia Grown, Gourmet Food, Housewares, Luxe and Tabletop; Makers Hub combines Handmade Designs, Handmade Jewelry, Emerging Artist, Made in America, Global Designs, The Gallery Collection and Museum Gifts.

Notable brands across categories include Rant & Rave (jewelry) – Cash & Carry; Julie Vos (jewelry) – Fashion Accessories; The Naked Bee (natural skin care products) – Gift; Cavallini Papers & Co (gift and stationery) – High Design; Blomus (functional kitchen, bath, outdoor and home décor) – Home; Louis Sherry Chocolates (premium chocolate and tins) – Kitchen + Table; and Pretty Alright Goods (greeting cards and gifts) – Makers Hub.

Among the exhibitors at Atlanta Market this year are:

Accent Decor

Building 1, 18-E18

New products to see include Calyx Bowl, Dionysia Drinkware, Kavala Cloud, Kavala Tea, Rhea Bowl and Themis Bowl.

Add texture and an elevated sculptural look to kitchen or dining spaces with the ceramic food-safe Calyx Bowl. This serving dish is eye-shaped with a low striped foot and features a center walled bowl for holding dips or salsa with veggies, chips or crackers around the outside. Simple and striking in color and form, the Dionysia Drinkware is perfect for open shelves in kitchen and dining spaces or bar carts. Made from solid handmade soda glass in an earthy brown, green tone, this durable, thick glass tumbler feels great in hand and its warm, neutral color coordinates with a variety of dinnerware, barware and drinkware palettes.

Introducing basic tabletop dishware for everyday home decor that rises to any occasion with its hand-glazed beauty. The food-safe terracotta 16-ounce Kavala Mug in the Cloud colorway features an organic white reactive glaze that allows natural clay to show through and offers variation in the color. The food-safe terracotta Kavala Plate in the Tea colorway features a slightly curled rim, putty-colored reactive glaze with pale green and gray undertones, with a natural bisque ring at the base.

Add artful versatility and sculptural design to home decor with the extra-large, food-safe ceramic Rhea Bowl. The curved bowl sits on a low clean foot and is finished in a white reactive glaze that has hints of warm tones. Two rows of dimensional, rectangular tabs are hand applied around the top band.

The organically hand-painted black trim, clean lines and large-scale size of the food-safe ceramic Themis Bowl makes this vessel truly unique among home decor. The black trim bisects the bowl and base at 90-degree angles for a stunning contrast against the smooth matte white finish.

Baccarat

Rosse Showroom: Building 2, 8th Floor, Suite 818

The Harcourt Tulipe Collection “celebrates the joy of sharing,” says its designer, Marcel Wanders. Harcourt and the fantasy of Wanders come together once again. The Dutch designer reinvents Harcourt – the iconic Baccarat design born in 1841 – with the Harcourt Tulipe collection, bearing his signature touch of poetry and elegance.

With Harcourt Tulipe, Wanders presents a renewed modernity, while preserving the distinctive features that have contributed to its success. He maintains the glass's original hexagonal base and transforms its six facets into petals, evoking the grace of a blossoming flower.

This contrast between the power of the base and the elegance of the curves is reflected in three exclusive creations crafted by Baccarat's artisans: a coupe, bowl and plate. Designed to suit all contemporary uses, this collection gives free rein to the imagination and brings a touch of organic fantasy to a table or console.

Proving once again that design is above all emotional, with Harcourt Tulipe, Wanders exalts the joy of sharing precious moments, illuminated by the singular brilliance of Baccarat crystal.

The collection consists of the Harcourt Tulipe Bowl ($690), Harcourt Tulipe Coupe ($820) and Harcourt Tulipe Plate ($950).

Beatriz Ball

Building 2, Suite 1101, Gift & Home Furnishings

In recognition of the intensely handmade, artisanal process of her metal items, Beatriz Ball has rebranded her metalware collection with a new name, Atelier. The popular lifestyle brand is revisiting its roots in sand-cast metalware and emphasizing that each Beatriz Ball metal product is an act of creation, slowly made entirely by hand, one at a time.

ACCENT DECOR

“An atelier is a workshop where artists create,” the award-winning designer said. “A place of slow and deliberate creation, where generations of artisans hone their craft under the same roof.”

“Handcrafted objects hold a special energy, a certain magic, each piece tells a story through its subtle imperfections,” said Ball. “The texture you feel, the weight you hold – these become reminders of the human hands behind it.”

“Owning something handmade is an investment in sustainability, a conscious choice to support artisans and reduce waste,” she said. “Handmade objects, as they pass down through generations, become heirlooms; they are stories waiting to be told.”

Ball will introduce a multicolored metalware collection called Encanto and highlight the Atelier Collection in Atlanta.

Vista Alegre

Building 2, 858-859

From the rich collection of Raphael Bordallo Pinheiro and his son, Manuel Gustavo, Bordallo Pinheiro has recovered a piece first created in 1904 and held in the permanent collection of the Ceramics Museum in Caldas da Rainha. The elegance and formal innovation of the Lobster Vase was significant in the decision to reproduce it.

It combines the characteristic naturalism and exuberance of Bordallo Pinheiro, while featuring remarkable restraint in its design and painting. With its pure and minimal geometric lines, including the square design of the handles and the symmetry of the decorative elements, the Lobster Vase anticipates modernism in Portugal. Our Piece of the Year and a timeless creation. It retails for $4,200.

Sempli is showing off its Monti Collection's Monti-Sono Set – hand-blown, lead-free clear crystal.

The harmonious and functional bedside carafe combines two elegant silhouettes – a peaceful companion to fall asleep next to and a thoughtful ornament to wake up with.

The Monti-Sonno's glass perfectly fits on top of the carafe to keep the water fresh overnight.

LSA

LSA continues its stylish, mouth-blown glass vases for all flowers and foliage – from a single bud to large bouquets or for display as stand-alone statement pieces.

The stacked forms of Sculpt vases have angular, geometric profiles, inspired by the carved wooden totems of sculptor Constantin Brancusi.

Inspired by the shape of florists' metal buckets, the Victoria collection of mouth-blown vases was created in tribute to the late florist Victoria Taberer-Bond – a long-standing partner and friend to LSA.

Arc Contrast is a collection of tumblers with gentle, open silhouettes that sit comfortably in the hand. Translucent and matte finishes meet in the center of each glass, creating contrasting surfaces that play on light.

Inspired by LSA's Polish heritage, Folk's vibrantly colored stripes and undulating forms take their cues from traditional Polish textiles and costumes.

vases with

iridescent tonal color expand the Gems collection farther into the Living category, offering new decorative pieces that can be combined with the collection's tealight holders or drinkware. Two lusters are applied by hand to each mouth-blown vase to create a subtle dual-tone effect.

Stepped forms with sloping walls, a linear texture and flat, polished rims reflect the facets of cut gemstones. The vases can also be used as decorative objects and some as lanterns.

Beacon introduces a modern collection of mixed-material candleholders with a modular design. Conical glass forms with a linear texture hold a powder-coated steel candle holder with low profile and wide rim.

The steel component may be removed so the pleated glass vessel can be used separately as a vase and in some cases, as
